ABOUT PADEAP

NEA ONNIM NO SUA A, OHU

"He who does not know can know from learning"

Supporting African Voices

PADEAP aims to promote sustainable and practical solutions to the challenges of development in Africa and the Diaspora. Our ethos is based on a Pan African philosophy and approach. PADEAP seeks to promote and support the development of and develop inter-country African skills, partnerships and expertise in seeking solutions to the challenges of peace building and development in Africa.

Our programmes operate from our headquarters in Kampala, Uganda and offices in Funtua, Katsina State and London, United Kingdom. PADEAP works with its partners to deliver the following objectives:

Empowering Communities

Promoting Human Rights education

Training & support

Community awareness – Health & education

Access to information communications & technology

Community resource centres in Uganda and Nigeria

Popularising access to new information technology

Research

Cultural exchange

Pan African cultural exchange

Human security

Training & community seminars – Building peace and justice

CHAIRS REPORT

PADEAP is happy to share this report with our numerous local partners, associates, supporters, sponsors, and funders both local and internationally and the general public especially in the three countries where we operate. Without your trust, support and confidence PADEAP could not have achieved any of the success stories that you will read in this report. By no means is everything rosy and smooth sailing but your support has been critical in us facing up to the various challenge's we confront in fulfilling our mission.

On behalf of the Board I would also like to pay tribute to all our members of staff and several volunteers in Uganda, Nigeria and the United Kingdom for their dedication and devotion to their work and total commitment to the mission and vision of PADEAP. The Board of Trustees sets out the broad policy frameworks and approves the work plan but the bolts and nuts are fixed in the frontlines in which the staff work day in and night out. As typical of many NGOs especially those based at the grassroots levels and working with voiceless and marginalized peoples PADEAP has many big dreams but very limited resources therefore staff are having to go beyond the call of their formal duties to make sure that we deliver on our mandate. In all three countries we have been fortunate to have staff that do not work for PADEAP but work with us because they also share in the Vision and Mission of the organization and its core values of selfless service to the communities we serve. No staff member epitomizes this spirit better than our Director of Programmes, Ms Tominke Olaniyan, whose leadership and commitment has inspired similar dedication from all our staff.

It is difficult to imagine that PADEAP continues to grow and deliver much needed services in three countries, build strong partnerships and create constituencies for local ownership of development, empower its partners and remain focused on its many advocacy interventions both locally and internationally on such limited funds.

Our experiences in these countries continue to inspire us that our vision and the mission we have given ourselves though, very ambitious, are not only desirable but needed. This has created a lot of high expectations in terms of what PADEAP can do but strategic partnership, transparency and accountability to those we serve and continuing deepening engagements ensure that people are understanding that we are merely facilitators but the burden of development lies with the people themselves.

Finally I would like to thank my fellow trustees, all of them very busy people but who continue to give their time to helping to nurture PADEAP. As you can see from the testimony of various partners and beneficiaries of PADEAP's various programmes contained in this report, together we are making a qualitative difference.

ASANTE Sana to all of you.
Dr Tajudeen Abdul-Raheem, Chair PADEAP of Trustees

PADEAP UGANDA

'Any serious talk of building a united States of Africa must begin with the need to guarantee full citizenship rights to all Africans, and the complimentary freedoms to move, settle, work and participate in the political processes anywhere they may be.'

Community resource centre - PADEAP Uganda

PADEAP Uganda

PADEAP Uganda opened in 1997. Our programmes are channelled towards using the driving forces of advocacy and education to empower African voices for development in Uganda and the wider East African Community (EAC) and African Union.

Community resource centre – Kampala

PADEAP Uganda's community resource centre is a hub for providing information, training and education. We have built up an extensive library of information as a resource for local refugees and community based organisations working with refugees. The library holds books, journals, newspapers and literature that focus on issues related to Pan African approaches to development, refugee rights, human rights, youth, gender empowerment, conflict, health and ICT. The centre is open to all in the local community who require access to the internet for educational and information.

Citizenship Programme

In partnership with Global Pan African Movement, the International Refugee Rights initiative and the Open society Justice Initiative the Citizenship Rights in Africa Initiative (CRAI) was launched in 2007. CRAI is a campaign dedicated to ending statelessness and the arbitrary denial of citizenship in Africa.

Refugee Advocacy programme (RAP)

Uganda has a refugee population of 257,273 people (UNNCR 2007), 65% being women and girls. Uganda has 9 Government gazetted refugee settlements scattered all over the country.

RAP works with refugees and asylum seekers in Kampala and the Nakivale refugee settlement. During 2009 we have deepened and consolidated the range of services offered to the refugees living within Kampala.

Women's continuous education class - PADEAP Nigeria

PADEAP Nigeria

PADEAP Nigeria opened in 2003 and is committed to the development of the rural communities especially in the northwest zone of Nigeria, based on the ideology of using education as a catalyst for change. Our programmes are channelled towards using the driving forces of advocacy and education to empower African voices for development in the zone.

Community resource centre – Funtua

PADEAP's community resource centre is an open place for easy interaction among people from diverse cultural, religious and ethnic backgrounds. It is also a hub for providing information, training and education. Its library is designed to meet needs of all categories of groups within the community especially young people and women. It holds a vast array of books, journals, newspapers, and literature that focus on Pan-African approaches to issues of conflict, human rights, health, youth, gender, politics and Information & Communication Technology.

Women's Community Education Programme

PADEAP has played a central role in supporting the development of women and women led groups in the Funtua senatorial zone of Katsina State. Working in a conservative part of Nigeria, it has been difficult to offer services to women of all faiths, but in working with local leaders and community members, the Community Education Programme has grown.

PADEAP is registered with the Mass Education Department – Katsina State and is a Continuous Education Provider for Katsina State. We offer basic, post and Continuous education classes (Secondary school level) for Adult women.

Peace Building (conflict resolution and interfaith programmes)

In 2008 PADEAP incorporated the successful UNICEF and Uganda Youth Anti-Aids Association (UYAAS) participatory peer education programme into their work. The 10-week programme incorporates peer educator training in schools for peace building, reproductive Health, HIV/Aids and Human Rights including the Millennium Development Goals. Teachers believed the peer educators should incorporate issues directly affecting the local community. Also focusing on health related areas would bring all sides of the community together, as HIV/Aids can affect anyone regardless of ethnicity or religious beliefs. Statistics show that in Northwest Nigeria, more than 80 percent of secondary school students exhibit complete ignorance of HIV/AIDS. 812 peer educators have been trained in 20 schools within Katsina State. 16,232 pupils directly benefited from the peer education programme, through school assemblies, and contact with trained peer educators.

KUUMBA- CREATIVITY

*African-rooted
Arts, Global
Citizenship and Personal
Development for all*

In African societies around the world, The Arts have a purpose and meaning in all aspects of life – birth, death, marriage, work, personal development, spirituality, community cohesion, education, health... Artistic beauty and success are defined not only by the skill of the artist, but also the extent to which the art produced has a use within the community.

Kuumba - Creativity is designed to:

Introduce young people to contemporary realities in Africa, the challenges and strengths of the Continent, through contemporary African Arts

Educate young people about contemporary African Arts and their application and value in many aspects of life

Give young people practical opportunities to experience, express, learn and develop their creative skills.

In 2008, we recruited a number of artists to take part in this project. All of them perform or exhibit nationally and internationally, as well as being skilled and enthusiastic teachers who enable workshop participants to enjoy themselves, learn and engage with wider issues including personal, community and global development.

Visual Arts

Gloria Ojulari Sule is a community artist who exhibits and undertakes commissions of all kinds – painting, installations, street art – and uses a variety of media including drawing, textiles, photography and film. www.gloarts.co.uk

Drama, poetry, spoken word

Rommi Smith is a poet and playwright who works to fuse music and the spoken word together. www.rommi-smith.co.uk

Music

Muntu Valdo is a “one man blues band” from the Cameroon complete with a portable recording studio! www.muntuvaldo.com

In 2008, we worked in partnership with Haringey Youth Service to offer well-attended and evaluated workshops with these artists as part of the Summer University programme and as part of the ongoing programme for Girls' groups around the borough.

In addition, continuing our programme of engagement with adult audiences we partnered with Haringey Independent Cinema to show “Yaaba” as part of the Haringey Black History Month celebrations.
